

PROPOSAL

WILL YOU MARRY ME?

Dear, Moon

Happy Anniversary, love. Words can't express the love I have for you in abundance. The moments we spent together will always be precious to me. From waiting for a reply when you were my crush to waiting to be your arms again, we came a long way in this relationship.

Many more years ahead to spend, face every up and down, together. I'm aware, being this far from each other sucks but nothing can change my love for you. From 2000km afar, today I ask you, Will you marry me and be by my side till the end? Happy Anniversary once again love, we'll meet soon
